To Whom It May Concern:

Holland Roofing has been working with Foresight Services and their roofing team for the past seven years. The design and consulting information has been invaluable. In the past seven years we have installed over 200 roof systems for a single Foresight customer with great success. Foresight's Project Managers are great to work with on all facets of our associated roofing projects, thus resulting in professional results and satisfied building owners and tenants.

When we find out that that Foresight is involved we know that the correct system has been designed for their building and the owner will be satisfied with the end result.

Respectfully,
